

Review of Navin Kundra songs Jee Lee and Zinda Hoon

I am reviewing Navin Kundra music album and some of his songs; he is music artist and talented song writer.

His song Jee Lee features well known celebrities and model Sabeeka Imam, her role is to be his lover and enticing and playing with him while he is singing and dancing with dancers at the background who go along with his dance routine and the way he moves. The background has like club scene where there are beautiful girls and bar.

I like this song as it relates to how our journey from young to teenage years where we all desire the friendship and relationships of girls we like. And the obstacles we face to achieve them and also the good experiences we want to go through for me that one of the messages Navin is sending to us, there is hope is achieving your dreams and aspirations if you work towards and it doesn't matter who you are. Listener will view his music in different ways, what we all understand and like about his music is that it has high energy and those who like artist Arjun and his song Stargazer will definitely enjoys his music and will appeal to those especially Asians 18-24 who are looking for love, friendship or just want to listen to such nice music, motivates us in positive manner.

His other song Zinda Hoon is more of an intense song and the above group of listeners as mentioned will enjoy it. In this music video the background music is more like a person on a mission go through a journey of choosing the right girl to go for and the problem he faces in doing so. The song features Nicola Achilleas and another model that are his love interest and his journey in finding joy and happiness in his relationships with them. I like this song as for me it was an adventure sort of song and I enjoyed the way the music was set up and the other scenes with good looking girls, nice cars and the way he was portrayed at night time going through these stages and his conversations in attempting to reaching a stage of peace with his friend girls.

Jee Lee is a song which you can listen with your girlfriends and you both can smile and enjoy his music and reminisce your happy memories together and joke about it. Zinda Hoon is more of a high beat and when you are with you mates it is a wonderful way to get boasted and have your ego and just go out there and pursue the girl you want the right way. Speaking on a personal level it nice and enjoyable to listen when you driving or at home.
